Friendship and Brotherhood and the Subtle Worlds

Dear Friends: As we celebrate Torkom's birthday and TSG's 17th Anniversary, we send you our heartfelt gratitude for your continued and loving support. Our labor is lightened every day with your prayers and love and joy. We look forward to many more years of service and co-discipleship.

In this issue of Outreach, we print a beautiful tribute to friendship taken from Other Worlds by Torkom Saraydarian. We hope you enjoy this wonderful excerpt.

On the physical plane, man has an illusion of being alone. But in the Subtle World this illusion vanishes. Many relationships established throughout ages reveal themselves gradually as the human soul penetrates into the higher strata of the Subtle Worlds.

Throughout ages man builds better and better relationships with other souls; as husband and wife, children, parents, teachers, and students; as close, dedicated friends; as business partners, associates, and co-workers. None of these contacts or relationships disappear. They continue in both worlds. Sometimes they fade away slowly. Sometimes they are strengthened with a new supply of love, dedication, and labor.

Thus, throughout ages, we create a network of friends on earth and in the Subtle Worlds.

In the Teaching, friendship is highly recommended, especially friendship based on labor and sacrificial service. A great task done for the love of humanity, for the service of the Hierarchy, builds strong ties of friendship which can last forever.

The relationship between a teacher and a student is also very sacred. It lasts many ages, or forever. The bond created in such a relationship turns into a source of everlasting joy and inspiration.

Not all friendships endure. Sometimes a friendship is shattered because of personality interests, blind attachments, possessive attitudes, treason, malice, slander, and destructive criticism. Every time a relationship is broken violently, it creates heavy disturbances in the network of relationships in earthly and subtle spheres and brings a limiting, irritating reaction.

Unity is considered sacred, and life advances through unity and unification. Disunity is against evolution, and it is the source of retrogression, pain, and suffering. Unity leads to improvement and toward the path of perfection.

Scattered throughout the earth and the Subtle Worlds, friends hold the threads of relationships. It is so inspiring and so encouraging to know that though one is alone on earth, he is related to hundreds and thousands of friends scattered all over the world and throughout the Subtle Worlds.

Loneliness is an illusion. At any given time, we have friends who are either around us or thinking about us, or actively participating with our labor, either in visible or invisible forms. Our life can bring joy or sorrow to them; it can bring inspiration or depression to them. We live in their presence.

The physical body gives us the impression that we have a private castle in which we can hide or isolate ourselves. This is an illusion. All our friends in the Subtle Worlds can watch us and communicate with us. All our friends who are in incarnation in different parts of the world, within different nationalities, and in different colors and sexes are also with us on subjective levels when we sleep and become active on subtle planes.

Due to our ignorance and the insufficient development of our continuity of consciousness, we do not realize this fact, and we do not affirm our relationships. That does not imply that such relationships do not exist.

One of the goals of the human being is to build good friendships on solid foundations and increase the number of such friendships. A solid foundation is very important. It can be built between people who are dedicated to the following:

1. Improving and transmuting their consciousness
2. Serving the One Humanity
3. Bringing in unity, prosperity, and health to Earth
4. Paving the way for the externalization of the Hierarchy and the reappearance of the Christ
5. "Sealing the door where evil dwells"
6. Bringing Beauty, Goodness, Righteousness, Joy, and Freedom to humanity

7. Building a bridge between subjective and objective worlds
8. Revealing the Inner Glory in each human being
9. Cleansing illusions, glamors, maya, and pollution in the world

Relationships built upon such foundations last forever.

Souls related in ever-increasing joy advance on the Path of perfection. Their relationships become increasingly more conscious and sensitive, and as they progress, they care and sacrifice more for each other. This is how the armies of Light are formed everywhere, in any stratum of existence.

Such a realization takes away the illusion of loneliness from your mind and opens the horizons of unlimited friendship. You slowly realize that you are not alone in your efforts, failures, successes, striving, and labor. Many visible and invisible friends help you with their thoughts and with their aspiration, striving, and active help.

Once you develop faith and trust in your invisible and visible friends, you live as a group, as an army of friends who cooperate and help each other in all their efforts, labor, and service based on solid foundations.

Good friends, especially in the subjective planes, do not like to participate in activities that lead to ugliness, crime, disunity, and embarrassment. Actually, you lose some of your friends if you follow the dark path. For a long time your true friends try to help you, to pull you away from your dark path. They try to reach you through your heart, through your mind; and, if you do not hear them, they feel real pain and sorrow, especially those who tried to lead you into the right direction.

In losing a good friend you gain a dark friend.

You have had and you still have many "friends" who, for many reasons and throughout many incarnations, have hated you, wished ill for you, and created many obstacles on your path. You also have souls who wait for the opportunity to attack you. When a disunity is created within the network of your good relationships, they feel extremely happy because it gives them an opportunity to infiltrate into your network and take possession of your friends for future disturbances and attacks. You can lose your friends if you try to stop them or hurt their spiritual evolution and lead them into darkness, or if you do the same to yourself.

There is an artificial unity between enemies of mankind. There are many networks of those who follow the path of darkness and destruction. Each member retards the evolution of the others, leading them into deeper and greater darkness and into greater pain. Such relationships are based on individual interests, and the threads of the network are weakened by fear and hatred. It is very unhealthy to be in such networks because they accumulate the worst karma and their destruction is very painful on earth. It is even more painful in the Subtle Worlds.

There are people who come into incarnation with serious mental and nervous problems and become burdens upon society. One must be careful not to be caught by such a network of evil.

We are told that there are five major ways through which humanity falls into the traps of the enemies: malice, slander, treason, separatism, and exploitation. Good friendships are built with very sensitive threads. There are things that can sever these threads and make relationships difficult or impossible for a long period of time. Major reasons for cleavages between friends are

1. Criticism
2. Intruding into the personal affairs of others
3. Trying to possess your friend
4. Gossip
5. Unfaithfulness to your promises
6. Stealing
7. Creating cleavages between a friend and his friends
8. Hurting his friends
9. Not meeting your responsibilities toward him or his friends
10. Using his power or reputation for your selfish interests or goals
11. Sending negative thoughts or emotions to him
12. Attacking his freedom and the objects of his devotion and worship

There are a few rules given by the Ancients which can be used to heal cleavages, or to avoid them altogether. In case of any cleavages between you and your friends:

1. Never gossip about them. Never utter an ugly or belittling word about them.
2. Remember that the shared and personal life of friends must be safeguarded and not betrayed.
3. Send blessings often to your friends. Do not carry any remorse in your heart.
4. Remember that an enemy can be the best friend in the future. A lost friend can meet you again at the crossroads of your life in your most critical moments and extend his hand to help.

5. Remember that all cleavages are temporary and are meant to serve as lessons. The sooner we learn our lessons, the better will be the network of our friendships.

When you become more and more aware of the network of your friends, you live a life based on subjective cooperation in which there is mutual help. Thus, every member in each network of friendships inspires, encourages, and helps the others throughout centuries. Often they incarnate together and carry on great works of service for humanity. It is possible that they may not recognize their past relationships or present subjective relationships. Nevertheless, they dedicate themselves to the same goal, for the same vision. Dedication and labor for the same vision are solid proofs of their past relationships.

Advanced souls anxiously watch every field of existence to see if the tapestry of friendship is building, if the electrical lines of the networks are forming. With each formation they pour their blessings and wisdom into the souls of dedicated friends.

In the Higher Worlds, friendship eventually turns into a brotherhood. There are many brotherhoods in many strata of existence. They proceed toward greater light, like fiery flowers.

As we have many friends in our earthly relationships who cause us troubles and bring complications into our lives, we also have invisible friends on the astral plane and friends unknown to us on the physical plane who cause troubles and complications in our lives without any conscious planning or intention. Fortunately, the number of such trouble-making friends decreases as we exhaust our karma with them. They are those whom we have hurt unknowingly and misused unconsciously. We are now repaid through their actions and attitudes.

We find such "friends" on our path on earth and in the Subtle Worlds who, in the name of friendship, create disturbances in our lives. It is possible to put them on the path of a right relationship with us. Or, it may be necessary to postpone our relationships with such "friends" for a long period of time, until conditions are right and the growth of our soul gives us an opportunity to build better relationships.

Such kinds of "friends" are not as dangerous as those who enter the network of our good friendships, masquerading as friends. They are very difficult to uncover on the physical plane but easy to expose in the Subtle Worlds. The problem is due to our lack of continuity of consciousness, and our inability to use on the earthly planes the revelations received in the subtle planes.

When we pass into the subtle planes, these "friends" cannot reach us while they are in the physical body. But if they also pass away, they clearly see their hypocrisy and stop acting against us as enemies.

If we do not dwell on the lower astral plane, they cannot reach us. Animosity cannot go beyond the lower levels of the astral plane. If they also graduate, they do not continue their animosities.

We attract these people through our past karma. Hatred, revenge, and exploitation produce such undercover enemies. Harmlessness is the great virtue which karmically prevent the approach of these people.

The enemies of the Great Ones are the agents of dark forces. This has nothing to do with the karma of these Great Ones. The dark forces follow the steps of the Great Ones life after life to hurt Them and, if possible, to damage Their work. But, fortunately, all their intrigues end with the victory of the Great Ones.

Leaves from My Spiritual Journey

By Gita Saraydarian

Celebrating Torkom's Birthday and TSG's 17th Anniversary!

"Wayfarer, friend, let us travel together. Night is near, wild beasts are about, and our campfire may go out. But if we agree to share the night watch, we can conserve our forces.

Tomorrow our path will be long and we may become exhausted. Let us walk together. We shall have joy and festivity. I shall sing for you the song your mother, wife and sister sang. You will relate for me your father's story about a hero and his achievements. Let our path be one.

Be careful not to step upon a scorpion, and warn me about any vipers. Remember, we must arrive at a certain mountain village.

Traveler, be my friend."

(Agni Yoga Society, New Era Community, 1926 Preface)

Every year at this time I reflect on Torkom's birthday and the TSG Anniversary. I remember how I decided to start TSG on November 1st 1987 and had all the paperwork done and licenses completed by November 30th, just after Thanksgiving. This time of the year holds a lot of heartfelt joy for me and I am always deeply grateful for so much that has happened in my life.

I have enjoyed tremendous fortune and I see the depth of it more every year. When I speak with people they tell me I am so lucky to be in this business and be Torkom's daughter. True to my heritage, I demure and say thank you and continue with my business. This year, as I reflect on my good fortune, I am ready to accept, embrace, and yes, be in the total joy of being in a line of work that I enjoy so much. I am grateful for my Father to trust in me, to give me this work, to give me his treasure and ask me to take care of it. I have realized that this is not an ego trip nor is it boasting. On the contrary, it is an affirmation of love.

How did I make this leap from politely saying "Oh, thank you" to boldly accepting my place in the Universe? It was the acceptance of the prosperity of the universe, its abundance, and its love and joy. I have begun to see how that love and joy permeate every single part of my life.

The Universe wants us to succeed, to have wealth, to have prosperity in every meaning of the term. When I stop to think about the meaning of true prosperity, I realize that it comes to me from everyone and everything around me. I would like to acknowledge this prosperity. I have an endless list of people and events to be thankful for. Here are just a few:

- My Father and Mother, for bringing me into this world and sacrificing so much to give me an education and opportunity. They put up with my fiery temper and growing pains and guided me and four other siblings, gently and not so gently, toward increasing maturity and wisdom.
- My sister and three brothers and the rest of my family, who are so talented, loving, and beautiful, and have built a solid family foundation on which everyone can rely.
- My husband, who is a rock I can lean on.
- My friends and co-workers, who love me and continue to support me through thick and thin. I have had so many friends through the years that thinking of them puts wings on my heart.
- To each and every single one of you, who has trusted me, believed in me, and believed in this work and lovingly let your money, your support, and your time flow into our work and make it possible to accomplish so much. I could not do it without you.
- To all the TSG workers and volunteers throughout the years who have come into and out of our life and left indelible marks on the work.
- To all the friends and co-workers who have served on the TSG Board of Directors. Your guidance has been superb; your wisdom great.
- To all our customers from all around the world who grace us with your orders and joyful expectation, may we always serve your spiritual needs.
- To all my friends in the U.S. and around the world, who serve and sacrifice to spread the teaching, you are the carriers of the torch into the future.
- To all the TSU students from all over the world, you have given me the opportunity to begin the creation of a spiritual University, to develop the courses and the curriculum that will serve countless students in the coming years.

- For all the healers in my life who have seen me through crises and challenges and helped me overcome.
- My karma, for battering me against the waves and rocks and bringing some sense into me. I once called Torkom to complain about the "hard times" I was having. He said, "Be happy, you are able to pay off the karma." So, yes, I am happy to be able to pay off my debts and hope to have the wisdom not to incur such a long spiritual "rap sheet" as someone once put it!
- My not so friendly friends, for they taught me vigilance and taught me to forgive, bless, and learn to pray even for their well-being and prosperity. I remember another telephone call to Torkom, this time to complain about some relationship pain I was having, and he laughed and laughed. Instantly and in reaction to his laughter, the absurdity of the situation dawned on me. I heard him say, "So, you want to be a leader? Learn to take these challenges and be tough and at the meantime to have the heart of compassion." Easier said than done! Throughout the years, I have learned the wisdom of his words and seen how much we have to learn in responding to challenging situations and what it means to strive toward true leadership and stewardship.
- To all my teachers, in all subjects, in all of my life, you have given me parts of yourselves and taught me so much. I still remember my teachers in Jordan, my first ballet class, my High School grammar teacher, and so many others....
- To my Solar Angel, who patiently waits for me every day to awaken more and more. Thank you for standing by me.
- For the Teaching of the Great Ones, the river that flows into my life, without a beginning and without an end, always surrounded with the most intense beauty of recognition that greater truths await us; and it never ends. The Teaching is like a river, flowing fierce and strong then deep and hardly perceptible. Yet it is always there, ready to emerge at the slightest touch. The Teaching belongs to everyone, everywhere, for all time. It beckons us and refreshes us. It is the river of my life.
- To my Father, who trusted me and loved me and gifted me with the most precious gift I could ask for, the opportunity to serve and grow.

Yes, I acknowledge the gift of love and joy from my Father, and from even a Greater Father in Heaven, who looks over all of us, ready to give us everything that we need in our life.

And to you, dear reader and friend, continue to travel with us, be our companion on the path, be part of the Plan and Service with us, add to the treasure and abundance of our life, and may you be blessed and blessed with health, wealth, abundance, and happiness and may your prayers be answered. May we all continue to travel on the Path together, helping make dreams come true.

And, as the year draws to a close, I wish you happiness, joy, and bliss.

•Happy Birthday Torkom. Your Legacy lives on in the hearts of all who love and serve the Teaching.

•Happy Anniversary to TSG, the 17th year completed! May you grow and be an outpost for service in every land.

•Happy Thanksgiving to you all.

•A Blessed Christmas and Blessed Holy Days.

•A joyful and prosperous New Year.

And, may our Earth be peaceful and healthy and may we all be part of making it so.
