

SECURING THE FUTURE

The future of any humanitarian and spiritual mission is maintained through the trust and courage of the people who support it.

A seed planted in fertile ground, grows into a huge tree, giving shade and sustenance to the surrounding life. The seeds we planted long ago have sprouted into trees. Now, we can grow a forest together.

A great Master gave five requirements for the successful funding of a spiritual endeavor:

- Courage.
- Give as best as you can.
- Always serve the one humanity.
- The careful presentation of the cause for which the financial support is required.
- A vital and sure belief in humanity as a whole.

We strive to fulfill these requirements.

Every spiritual center must bloom... One of our Teachers once said, “What we gave to you, what we are going to leave to you, are seeds. We want to see them increase and turn into glorious buildings and achievements. Do not let the spirit die. You must stand on your feet and do greater things than we did.
