ABOUT TSG PUBLICATIONS

TSG Foundation has published many books and booklets over the years and continues to release more of Torkom's creative works.

Publications are broadly divided into five subject areas:

Ethics and social responsibility: Building “right human relations” starts with having a sense of responsibility and a deep sense of the inherent human virtues that can be considered “goodwill.”

Critical thinking: Learning to discern true independent thinking, free from mechanical thinking is the foundation of a healthy mind.

Creativity and culture: Creativity can be defined as bringing illumination in any endeavor one chooses, in any of the seven fields of human expression: politically, artistically, scientifically, economically, educationally, and in the fields of communication and religion.

Leadership and vision: Leadership qualities can be evoked in every human being in all fields of life.

Crises and challenges of life: We deal with crises and challenges of our personal and national and global life according to our inner strength and the power of our psychic development.
